

THE LIFE OF ELECTRONICS

Speakers

Sara Dominguez

Jim Cranshaw

Bibi Bleekemolen

Janet Gunter

Ugo Vallauri

Federico Magalini

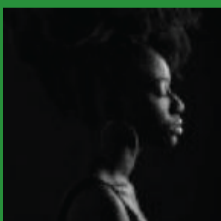

Thomas Poelmans

Yasmine Abbas

Hal Watts

Heather Agyepong

Tickets limited!
Get yours now on Eventbrite!
Follow us on Twitter
Like us on Facebook

Programme

1:00 Welcome and introduction to the day.

Block 1: Conflict minerals and workers' rights

1:10 Sara Domínguez, Engineers Without Borders Spain. Conflict minerals as part of ethical electronics.

1:22 Jim Cranshaw, Electronics Watch. Workers' rights in the Electronics manufacturing industry

1:34 5 min break.

Block 2: Ethical consumption

1:39 Bibi Bleekemolen. Fairphone. A seriously cool smartphone; putting social values first.

1:51 Janet Gunter / Ugo Vallauri. The Restart Project. Don't despair, Repair.

2:03 5 min break.

Block 3: Responses to the e-waste problem

2:08 Federico Magalini, researcher at the United Nations University. The challenges of e-waste circularity.

2:20 Thomas Poelmans, project director at WorldLoop. Best of the 2 worlds approach.

2:32 5 min break.

Block 4: Bottom-up approaches to e-waste recycling

2:37 Yasmine Abbas, co-leader of the Agbogbloshie Makerspace Platform. A series of informal makers' camps to build the future of Agbogbloshie.

2:49 Hal Watts, designer. The pedal powered cable shredder E-source.

3:01 Heather Agyepong, photojournalist. The gaze on Agbogbloshie.

3:06 10 min break

3:16 Panel discussion with all participants.

4:00 Networking session, drinks, and visit to stands. Some panelists will showcase their products or work during the session.

4:55 End of the conference.

6:00 Informal debriefing and drinks together with the ICT4D London Meetup group.

ict4d

21st November 2014

1:00pm to 5:00pm

University of London Union, 3rd floor, room 3-A, Malet Street WC1E 7HY London, UK